SCHOOL BOY PLAYER
DEFEATS CHAMPIONS

BOSTON BOY LEADS AT GOLF

May Hold World's Record for Clever Work

Gets in Lead at Turn for Holes on Homeward Stretch

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 20.—Francis Outmet, a school boy amateur of Brookline, won today the highest golfing honors in the country, if not in the world, by defeating Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, the English professionals, by 5 and 6 strokes, respectively, in the play-off for the American open championship today.

The victory of the boy carried with it a gold medal and the custody of the championship cup by his home organization, the Woodland Golf Club, of Newton.

No amateur in this country and only one abroad has ever gained such golfing fame. There were few of the 5000 persons following the play who felt at the start that the youth could possibly vanquish such renowned veterans as the two former British champions.

In order to win Outmet was obliged to play the best golf of the week. When he had accomplished the first sixteen holes in 65 strokes and made the seventeenth in a wonderful three Vardon, his closest opponent, broke under the strain.

WAS NEVER HEADED.
Outmet did not get into the lead until the turn for the home holes. All three made the half-way mark in even 38. But after that he was never headed.

Enthusiastic followers carried the victor on their shoulders to the clubhouse.

BRYAN WILL NOT CEASE TO LECTURE

Says Public Men Must Expect to Be Criticised

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Commenting on the termination of his lecture engagements, Secretary Bryan today announced that he would continue to lecture as long as he remained secretary of state, and that he felt there was proper occasion and a desire to do so.

Bryan issued this statement: "This evening is the last of the Chautauque lectures for this season. The total income from Chautauque lectures this year is a little over $7000. The net receipts after taking out the necessary expenses are something over $5500. The number of whole week days which have been devoted to lectures is, according to my recollection, seven. The remainder of the lectures have been delivered at places near enough to this city for me to leave in the afternoon, sometimes as late as 8:08 o'clock. I would not assume that the public was interested in these details were it not for the fact that the representatives of a few newspapers have regarded it as a matter of great importance.

WILL LECTURE WHEN DESIRES.
When Bryan was asked if he would lecture any more during his connection with the State Department, he replied: "I expect to lecture whenever I deem it desirable or necessary to do so, and have not in the least altered the plans which were made at the time I assumed the duties of the office. The criticism that has been directed against my lecturing is no more bitter than the criticism I have undergone at other times and for other duties during my connection with politics.

A part of this criticism is malicious, a part of it is partisan and a part of it is based upon misinformation. That which is malicious will answer itself, that which is partisan will be answered as such, that which is based upon misinformation will cease when the critics are better informed.

PUBLIC MEN CRITICISED.
No man should enter public life if he objects to criticism and he cannot stay in public life if he permits criticisms to think right. He must decide his duty for himself and is answerable to the public for any mistake he makes. I regard lecturing as an entirely legitimate field. I lectured before I was nominated for the Presidency; I lectured between campaigns; I shall continue to lecture and I shall not believe that any person whose opinion is worth having will think the less of me because I do so. This closes the lecture subject for the present."

QUIMET BOSTON BOY
LEARNED AS A CADDIE

Francis Outmet, the American youth who won the American golf championship against the English professionals, Ray and Vardon, is a Boston product.
He is 22 years of age and learned golf as a caddie. He is a member of the Woodlawn Club and holds the amateur championship of Massachusetts. He was born in Boston, where he attended school until a year ago. His parents are French-Canadians who moved from Montreal to Brookline some years ago.

Outmet has been employed with a Boston business concern since he left school. It was his perfect knowledge of the Brookline course that helped him to overcome the decided advantage of Ray and Vardon.

WOMAN CRUSHED
BENEATH TRAIN

Mrs. Grace Oliver Acted Queerly Before the Accident

Mrs. Grace Oliver, an employee of the Pacific Canning Company and living at 934 Chester street, was struck by a westbound horse-drawn Southern Pacific electric train on Seventh street, between Campbell and Willow streets, shortly after 8 o'clock this morning and instantly killed. Circumstances are alleged to point to suicide, although the police are inclined to doubt this theory.

Just what the woman was doing in that neighborhood at that time cannot be explained. Two months ago she parted from her husband, R. D. Oliver, alias R. D. Dilling, and yesterday afternoon she received a letter from him, according to Mrs. M. J. Smith, from whom the woman rented an apartment, was continually read and reread every few minutes.

Recently Mrs. Oliver obtained employment with the Pacific Canning Company at Twelfth and Pine streets, and when she left for work this morning she was apparently in gay spirits, although it was evident her gaiety was forced.

"I don't care if I am fired or not," Mrs. Oliver told her landlady, Mrs. Smith, when she left for work this morning. "I am rather late, but I just don't care."

DOES NOT APPEAR.
Then she departed, with the apparent intention of going to her employment. However, she did not appear there, although it was not until informed by the police that it was known that she was absent.

Little is known of the dead woman. From correspondence in her apartments it is believed she has relatives in Palmer, Iowa, a letter signed Sister Lula Oliver being found on a

Aged Man Run Down
By Automobile Truck

P. H. McKeon, 73 years of age, who is employed by the Key Route as a flagman at Fourth street and Telegraph avenue, was run down this morning by an auto truck driven by George H. Evers, proprietor of the Imperial Creamery at 3314 Telegraph avenue. The accident occurred shortly after 7 o'clock while McKeon was standing in the street on duty. His injuries consisted of a lacerated scalp and bruises on his body, which were treated at the Emergency hospital. Evers was placed under arrest and held by Captain Lynch at the Northern police station, where he was later released on his own recognizance. McKeon resides at 611 Fourth street.

Seven-Year-Old Boy Hit by Auto

Donald O'Neil, 7-year-old son of Harry O'Neil, 435 Bush street, was run down by an automobile driven by Frank Kelly, 787 Seventh street, at Seventh and Washington streets shortly after noon today. Kelly picked up the lad and rushed him to the emergency hospital where Dr. C. A. De Puy found that the patient had sustained a compound fracture of his left leg.

Although suffering considerable pain, the patient did not commence to cry until after the hospital ambulance had succeeded in saving the life of Mrs. Clara Skinner who had attempted suicide.

Mrs. Dahlmeier Causes Arrest of Peter R. Murphey

Her Cry Starts Chase by Fourteenth Street Crowd

Diamond earrings, a divorced wife, a check alleged to have been forged, and an attempt to victimize a well known local physician, combined with the wounded pride of a woman to cause a sensational man hunt through the streets of Oakland this morning and to send Peter R. Murphey to a cell in the tower of the city hall to face a probable charge of forgery.

The woman in the case is Mrs. G. Dahlmeier, who is residing in an exclusive apartment house in Oakland and who is the divorced wife of Manager Dahlmeier of the Marysville and Orville stations of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

It was Mrs. Dahlmeier who recognized Murphey in a crowd at Fourteenth and Clay streets this morning, and shouted to him that she would have him arrested, Murphey fled.

"Stop thief!" shouted Mrs. Dahlmeier. "Stop thief!" was repeated by half a dozen voices in the crowd.

CROWD PURSUES.
The crowd pursued out Fourteenth to Jefferson, down Jefferson to Thirteenth and back along Thirteenth to Washington, where he ran into the arms of Deputy Sheriff Helme and Patrolman George Berger.

On being lodged in the city jail Murphey shut his lips tight and refused to be interviewed by the detectives.

Mrs. Dahlmeier also resented questioning, and even refused to disclose her name. She merely mentioned that her husband was a manager for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Murphey was wanted for forging a name and that Dr. F. E. Mueger of the Thayer building would swear to a warrant charging felony.

It was only by extensive investigation that the facts of a merry romance, which had its inception at a military hop at Marysville last April, and which led to a trip to Oakland, a celebration among the "white lights of San Francisco" and the promise of a pair of diamond earrings, came to light.

According to the police Murphey forged the name of his brother-in-law, Thomas Mahoney, to a $100 check on the Orville bank, representing himself to be Mahoney, and gained Dr. Mueger's endorsement to get the check cashed by the Oakland Bank of Savings. The money was to pay for the celebration and a pair of diamond earrings for Mrs. Dahlmeier.

WOMAN MAKES DENIAL.
Murphey made his mistake when he forgot to purchase the earrings, say the police. Mrs. Dahlmeier denies this, and declares that she was actuated by motives of altruism when she shouted "Stop thief!" in the street and caused Murphey's arrest.

The chronological history of the case is given by the police in brief as follows: Murphey and Mrs. Dahlmeier met at a military hop in Marysville. The favorite impression was mutual. Later they met

BE OAKLAND GUESTS

County Educators Will Meet With Those of Entire State

Plans for the holding of a great gathering of day conference teachers in Oakland during the week of December 23 at the annual meeting of the California Teachers' Association are being made by County Superintendent of Schools George W. Frick, president, who has sent out letters to the Alameda county teachers stating that the county institute this year will be held at that time instead of during October as heretofore. Napa county has signified its intention of holding its institute in conjunction with the Teachers' Association and it is probable that other counties of the bay section

This will mean that in addition to the teachers who attend the county institute there will be numerous members who will attend the California Association meeting from outside counties, bringing to Oakland during the week nearly 3000 teachers. In all there will be about 15 counties represented. The meeting will be a forerunner of the National Educational Association which will be held here in 1915.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Governor Sulzer denied today that he had recognized the right of Lieutenant Governor Glynn to perform the duties of acting governor. Governor Sulzer's action yesterday in transferring certain criminal business to the attention of Glynn and his counsel had no bearing on the question of Sulzer's present action.

WIFE TRIES TO END
LIFE

Mrs. Clara Skinner, 22 Years Old, Tires of Lonely Existence

Had Failed to Effect a Reconciliation With Husband

MRS. CLARA SKINNER, 22-year-old wife of H. G. Skinner, a local drug clerk, attempted suicide in her rooms at 1311 Castro street shortly after noon today, following three attempts over the telephone to effect a reconciliation with her husband. The couple separated a year ago and Skinner sued for divorce, alleging that his wife had married him under her maiden name when in reality she had been married before.

Three times Mrs. Skinner rang up her husband at his place of employment, but each time he refused to consider her proposals. She threatened to do away with herself. A fourth time the telephone rang and Mrs. Skinner announced that she had taken a fatal dose and that her troubles would be over within a short time.

Rushing from the store to the police station the young husband appealed for assistance and Patrolman W. A. Myer was sent with him in an automobile to the woman's rooms. They were unable to arouse any one and had started to batter in the door when it was opened by a Japanese servant.

MAY RECOVER.

The two men entered Mrs. Skinner's room and found her lying on the bed fully dressed and apparently asleep. Patrolman Myer tried to arouse her by shaking her impatiently and then walked her quickly about the room while Skinner summoned the police ambulance. She was removed to the emergency hospital and attended by Dr. C. A. De Puy with the result that it is expected she will recover.

A note left on the dresser of her room read: "Jack; You have refused to do anything toward getting back home, so I am through. I have taken three grains of codeine. CLARA."

With the information as to the poison the patient had taken the attendants at the Emergency hospital were enabled to give prompt and effective treatment.

MARRIED THREE YEARS.

The couple were married three years ago in Racine, Wis. After moving to Oakland their troubles began and Skinner sued for a divorce. The case has since been pending in the Superior Court. In the meantime Mrs. Skinner sought employment and was working at Fourteenth and Jefferson streets. Skinner resides at 610 Hobart street.

Captain and Crew Land Safely Through Surf

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Sept. 20.—The schooner Santa Cruz, Captain Nidever, went on the rocks at Rincon during the fog last night and pounded to pieces. Captain Nidever and his crew of six men escaped through the surf after one of the vessel's boats had been smashed in an effort to launch it.

The Santa Cruz, a small vessel owned by the Santa Cruz Island Company of San Francisco, was on its way from San Pedro to Santa Cruz Island last night.

According to reports, a lookout saw a steamer's light for a land light and before anyone was aware of it the schooner was in the surf and driven toward the rocks.

A high sea was running and the boat launched by the crew was smashed. A second boat was launched and in this the crew made their way to land.

PRESIDENT IS 'GROUNDLING' AT
VAUDEVILLE SHOW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—President Wilson sat in the balcony of a vaudeville theater last night and enjoyed the show much more than he did a week ago, when he occupied a stage box for his first sight of vaudeville. Before every time a joke was cracked the President noticed the crowd gazing at him and it spoiled his evening.

This time he slipped quietly in with Dr. Grayson and a secret service man and was not recognized. He did not wait for some pictures depicting Harry Thaw's adventures in Canada, leaving as the lights were dimmed and walking back to the White House while a crowd swarmed around the White House automobile outside.

Vice-President Marshall also went in for vaudeville last night. He occupied a stage box and did not know the President was in the house.

Cream From Baggage Compartment Floods Debris

MANHATTAN, Kans., Sept. 20.—Twenty persons were injured, one probably fatally, when passenger train No. 4 on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad, east bound from Denver and Colorado Springs to St. Louis, was derailed on a curve a mile west of here this morning. The steel baggage and smoking car combined rolled down a 20-foot embankment, landing upside down. The smoking compartment was full of passengers, most of whom were injured. The compartment was inundated by a flood of cream from a consignment in the baggage section.

Feline Fancier Defends the Breed Against Long Hairs

Are the long-haired cats as intelligent as those with short hair? Are they as apt and as obedient as the short-haired pussies? These are the questions which are causing controversy among local authorities on cats.

Scientists declare that there is no difference between the intellect of the long and short-haired cats, but there might be a shade of difference in their temperaments. However, the opinion exists that all breeds of cats may be trained if they are taught by a gentle hand to use their intellectual powers from their infancy. They may also outgrow their deceitful tendencies if they are properly schooled. The proverbial cat will always return to its owner if it is carefully raised.

Are the beautiful Angora cats the most intelligent in the family or feline? Many students say that the Angoras are only household pets and cannot be taught tricks, while others contend that they are apt. They belong to the long-haired Persian breed and are very popular.

LONG OR SHORT?

"I am going to prove, if I can, that the Angora long-haired cats are as intelligent as the short-haired animals," today declared Mrs. Fred L. Stemmmons, a prominent clubwoman of 725 Twenty-first street, who has successfully trained three cats which recently performed tricks at the cat show which was given at the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco. Mrs. Stemmmons expects that the Angora cat, which is about three months old, will be better trained in all the tricks in about two or three years. "Mike," "Teddy" and "Ebbie" were the chief actors in a cat circus, where they exemplified a series of stunts under the direction of Mrs. Stemmmons, who has the only schooled cats in the city.

Both "Mike" and "Teddy" won cups in the last annual cat exhibition, where they made their bow as star tricksters. In the role of a monkey on an organ, "Teddy," which was held by Mrs. Stemmmons at the cat circus, has been shown by Mrs. Stemmmons in the manner in which she has taught the cats to perform on trapezes and ropes. For the past three years she has been devoting her leisure time to their training, and by conscientious methods she developed their faculties to the fullest extent.

REAL CAT ARTISTS.

"I am going through a regular course of training with long-haired and short-haired cats," Mrs. Stemmmons said. "I have never seen any long-haired cats demonstrate ability in the line of tricks. All the celebrated cat artists are short-haired. Mrs. Frank Baker, president of the California Cat Club, said: 'The long-haired cats learn quicker, although the short-haired cats are the brightest.' Mrs. Baker is the possessor of four prize Persian cats, who have never been ill, as they have always been closely watched. They eat two meals every day. Their breakfast consists of an egg, well beaten, and milk. Their dinner includes raw meat or bread and milk."

In speaking of the long-haired cats, Miss Cora Hill, an associate instructor in the dairy department of the University of California, said: "The Angora cats may be trained to do tricks, but I have never known anyone to train them. The long-haired cats are petted and handled more than the short-haired cats which are the brightest. The Angoras are docile, but they are not as bright as the Maltese. From my observation, the long-haired cats are not as intelligent as those with the short hair."

Professor William Herms of the parasitological department of the University of California, do not see why there should be a difference in the intellect of the long and short-haired cats. The hair does not make any difference. It simply depends upon the training and care that a cat receives.

Miss Bessie Sprague of Berkeley, I think the long-haired cats are as intelligent as short-haired cats and can be taught tricks. It only requires patience and ability to teach them. Put yourself in their place and then get them to think as you do. The long-haired cats are more delicate than the short-haired species and live a shorter length of time. The short-haired cats have displayed a love to be exhibited. The long-haired cats want to be handled and petted.

Miss Sprague has been the owner of a number of valuable cats, which have won prizes.

Mrs. H. F. Eckert, of Fifty-ninth street, is proud of "Rob Roy," a Persian cat whom she secured from Indiana. "Rob" has often been seen at the big exhibitions, where he was much admired. He is two and a half years of age and is one of the family pets. Mrs. Eckert believes that long-haired cats are the brightest.

Mrs. L. L. Adney of this city has perhaps one of the most interesting aggregations of cats in the east bay cities. On Admission day four cats were born and were singularly handsome kittens. Their colors are red, white, blue and black.

BUNKO MEN CAN'T WORK IN OAKLAND

Four Men Driven Out of San Francisco Find Small Comfort Here.

Inspectors Hodgkins and Wood saw four men in the down town business district last evening whom they immediately recognized as being in the class of "confidence men." They rounded up the quartet and booked them at the city prison for vagrancy.

"We are not going to have this sort of people in Oakland," declared Captain of Inspectors Lou Agnew. "They can't work here. They think when it gets too hot for them in San Francisco that all they have to do is cross the bay. A few stiff sentences to the city tower will cure them of that idea."

Inspector Harry Caldwell of the bureau of criminal identification traced the records of the four men today as follows: Charles Logan, alias George Lewis, George Pryor and other names, served three years in San Quentin, and has records in New York, Chicago, Salt Lake, Cincinnati and Los Angeles.

William Henderson Burke, alias C. W. Alken, has records as bunco artist in Minneapolis, St. Joseph, Salt Lake, Denver and other cities.

Charles Samuel Wheeler, records in Los Angeles, Salt Lake, Denver.

George Curtis, alias George Brooks, records in Kansas City for confidence game. The men were arraigned this morning.

house, where Secretary John Reid Jr. of the United States Golf Association made the presentation speech.

Vardon received $170 and Ray $100 for second and third prizes. The final score was: Outimet, 72; Vardon, 77; Ray, 78.

First hole—Outimet had the honor and drove off 220 yards down a lane of 2000 persons. Vardon followed with the same distance and Ray fired at 220 yards.

Second hole—After grand drives Vardon overplayed while Outimet and Ray were on the green. Outimet had a chance for a three, while Ray rimmed the cup and missed the same figure. All made four. Totals—Outimet, 9; Vardon, 9; Ray, 9.

Third hole—Ray putted the second shot into the trees and was short of the green. He made a long putt to the hole and took one more than the others. Outimet missed an easy three. Vardon did likewise. Totals—Outimet, 13; Vardon, 13; Ray, 14.

FOURTH HOLE.

Fourth hole—Outimet putted his drive, the ball going to the edge of the woods. Both Englishmen also were wide from the tee. All went on to the green in two and Outimet had to putt down a long putt to the hole. He did it amid applause. Total score—Outimet, 17; Vardon, 17; Ray, 18.

Fifth hole—Outimet had a grand chance to gain a stroke after two splendid shots, but overran his putt. Vardon and Ray were in trouble on their second. Each made splendid recoveries. Score—Outimet, 22; Vardon, 22; Ray, 23.

Sixth hole—Vardon took the lead by laying his approach dead and holding out in three. Outimet and Ray played par golf with scores of four each. The gallery reached nearly 4000 persons at this point. Total score—Vardon, 25; Outimet, 25; Ray, 27.

Seventh hole—Ray recovered his lost stroke when the other two players overran their putts on the seventh hole. Ray almost holed out in two. Total score—Vardon, 28; Outimet, 30; Ray, 30.

EIGHTH HOLE.

Eighth hole—Ray outdrove the other pair. Outimet played a 50-yard mashie shot two feet from the hole. He took a three amid deafening cheers. Ray followed with a sensational 30-foot putt. The three players stood all even. Total score—Outimet, 33; Vardon, 33; Ray, 33.

Ninth hole—Outimet's drive was the shortest. Vardon played a 50-yard mashie and Ray was a trifle wide. Vardon made a beautiful recovery and all were on the green in three and each took two putts to hole. They turned into the home stretch even. Total score—Outimet, 33; Vardon, 33; Ray, 33.

Tenth hole—Both Vardon and Ray were off the green on their drives for the tenth hole, Vardon being in the woods. As Outimet was on and took two putts he took the lead in the match for the first time. Total score—Outimet, 41; Vardon, 42; Ray, 42.

Eleventh hole—All drove long balls and followed by second shots for the green. Each tried hard to hole distant putts, but were obliged to take two. Total score—Outimet, 45; Vardon, 46; Ray, 46.

Twelfth hole—Outimet picked up a second stroke lead through poor short iron work by the Englishmen. Vardon was off the green on his second and Ray was short.

Thirteenth hole—Outimet was out, driven, but all pitched cleanly to the bowl-like green. Ray took two putts, missing the first one by an inch. Outimet overran, while Vardon sunk a 10-footer for a three. Total score—Outimet, 53; Vardon, 54; Ray, 55.

Fourteenth hole—Each of the three players made errors on the fourteenth hole, Vardon pulling his drive into the rough and the others topping their second. Outimet overran the third while Vardon and Ray were short. All took two putts. Total score—Outimet, 58; Vardon, 59; Ray, 60.

Fifteenth hole—Ray's drive was headed off the course, but struck a spectator and rolled on to the fair green. He was bunkered on his second and took two more to get on the green. Vardon missed a two-foot putt for three. Outimet played par golf also for a four. Total score—Outimet, 62; Vardon, 63; Ray, 66.

OVERRRAN BADLY.

Sixteenth hole—All were on the short slash with the club over the green. Outimet missed making a two by an inch. Vardon did likewise, but Ray overran badly and took one more than the others. Total score—Outimet, 65; Vardon, 66; Ray, 70.

Seventeenth hole—Vardon was trapped on his drive, while Ray was in the rough. Vardon was on the green in the end, as was his companion. Outimet holed an 18-foot putt for a three, which clinched the championship for the young amateur.

Eighteenth hole—Outimet made a perfect drive, while Vardon and Ray were still in the rough. Ray and Outimet were on the green in their second. Vardon being short, Vardon followed by overrunning the hole and missed a four by an inch. Ray sank a three, Outimet took a four and Vardon, putting indifferently, was six. Total score—Outimet, 72; Vardon, 77; Ray, 78.

HARDWARE FIGURES IN DRESS FASHIONS

One of the most unique window displays seen in Oakland in a long time is being shown in the arcade windows of Gerwin's Millinery Department Store, 622-22 Broadway street, and has attracted crowds of people, who have viewed it with a great deal of curiosity as well as wonderment. The ingenuity displayed in the creation of the costumes and hats is really remarkable.

The display consists of a striking exhibit made during the fashion show in San Francisco, early in September; and shows how a hardware firm participated in this event. It has been loaned to and is shown in Oakland at Gerwin's through the courtesy of Chas. Brown & Sons, 811 Market St., San Francisco.

WEALTHY ENGINEER SUED BY WIFE IN DIVORCE

Mrs. Joseph Cozens Alleges Husband Deserted and Failed to Provide.

Obtains Order Restraining Disposition of Property Pending Settlement.

Joseph Cozens, a wealthy civil engineer and mining man, was made defendant in a divorce suit filed today by his wife, Ethel Caroline Cozens, that her husband owns valuable real estate and that his income is far in excess of $5000 per year, all of which he has consistently converted to his own use for some time. She has obtained a court order restraining him from disposing of any of the property pending the settlement of their differences. The couple were married in Sault Ste Marie, Canada, in October, 1908. They have a son, Edward Summerville Cozens, a youth of 13 years. Mrs. Cozens avers that her husband's income is $5000.

Alleging cruelty, Maud Morrison has sued Albert C. Morrison, and James W. Fisher wants a divorce from Rose Etta Fisher, alleging that she deserted him. F. S. Dutra was granted a final decree from Josephine E. Dutra.

Two months after their marriage in Santa Cruz, June 27, 1912, Grace du Mont and Bernhard du Mont arrived at the parting of their ways, and today Mrs. du Mont commenced suit for divorce.

Jennie D. Fisher has filed suit against Joseph E. Fisher, alleging divers acts of cruelty on his part.

again in Oakland. The happy meeting led to a desire to celebrate, but the funds were not easily available. But a bright idea came.

Mrs. Dahlmeier was a patient of Dr. Mueller's. She took Murphey to the physician's office and introduced him as Tom Mahoney, and vouched for him. On this showing the physician endorsed a $100 check.

When they went to San Francisco.

When the celebration was over there was less than $50 left to purchase the check.

According to Mrs. Dahlmeier, she has seen neither Dahlmeier nor the earnings until this morning, when she recognized her partner of the Marysville dance in the street and caused his arrest.

Dr. Mugger explained that when the check was returned from the Oroville bank he had to back up his endorsement with $100 from his own account. But the physician proved gallant. He declined this morning to disclose the name of his patient and it was only after considerable police investigation that Mrs. Dahlmeier's interest in the earnings and the check were disclosed.

BRYAN SIGNS TWO PEACE TREATIES

Guatemala and Panama in Negotiations With United States.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Secretary of State Bryan signed today treaties putting into effect his peace proposals between the United States and Panama and Guatemala. Like treaties have now been negotiated between this country and three other nations, while Honduras has agreed to sign a similar pact and it is expected that similar agreement soon will be reached with Costa Rica. Secretary Bryan's plan has been accepted in principle by the twenty-nine nations.

Rev. Henry Quickenden, new pastor of the Union street Presbyterian Church has inaugurated a novel organization in his church. Each day at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the boys and girls of the neighborhood gather at the church and are told stories. Mrs. Quickenden and Miss Edna McGraw, a well known missionary have charge of this department, which although just instituted is proving a great success.

The church is also forming a Mothers' Circle, which meets on the first Thursday in every month and devotes its energies to the discussion of home, school and church problems. An expert will talk at each meeting, including physicians, the promotion officers, teachers and nurses. Refreshments will be served at the meetings.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the church will meet for reorganization purposes on Friday, September 26th. A musical and literary programme will be a feature of the occasion. The society is expected during the year the church was without a pastor, following the resignation of Rev. E. L. Rich, who went to Red Bluff.

CLASS FIGHT ENDS LIFE OF STUDENT

on Neck, Chokes to Death.

The Purdue University "Tank
Scrap" Never to Be Held Again.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 20.—F. W.

last night during the annual "tank-scrap" between the freshman and sophomore classes at Purdue University. Obenchain, a sophomore, and his classmates wore leather collars, reinforced with metal to protect their necks. The dead student had a goitre on the neck and in the excitement his neck swelled until he was choked to death.

Physicians said Obenchain had been dead 10 minutes when found.

University authorities issued a statement in which it was said Obenchain's death was not due to any injury received in the fight, but it was announced that the historic "tank-scrap" would never be held again.

The annual freshman-sophomore fight received the name of "tank-scrap" because it has been held near a water tank. The freshmen, victors last night, were parading their victory about the campus and had lit the bonfires when news of Obenchain's death was announced. The celebration immediately ceased.

Decision.

That it will be necessary for all the senior judges of this county to be appointed juvenile court judges if cases under the new juvenile court law are to be successfully prosecuted, was the decision reached by Judge Ogden yesterday afternoon when the cases of Fred Oba and Charles Joseph came up for hearing. The two defendants were indicted by the grand jury on accusations made by Helen, a 15 year old girl. As Judge Ogden of the juvenile court presided at the preliminary hearing of the cases, he provides that he cannot sit at the trials and the cases were continued.

LAST DAY OF TEACHERS' MEET

Fourth Day of Session at Richmond Is Declared Very Successful.

RICHMOND, Sept. 20.—Yesterday was the last day of the session of the Contra Costa Teachers' Institute, and County Superintendent of Schools Hanlon, under whose direction the annual gathering of the teachers of the county has just been held, says that the present session was the most successful ever held in the county.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the institute closed the fourth and last day of its session and the 200 teachers in attendance from different parts of the county and outside points departed for their homes last night. The principal address of the last day of the session was delivered by Professor Mark Keppel, superintendent of schools of Los Angeles, who spoke on the topic of "Heroes and Hero Worshipers."

The main thought brought out in this most splendid address of the distinguished educator from the south part of the state was that the pupils naturally looked upon the teacher as a sort of hero or heroine, and that the acts of the teachers were emulated by the pupils, the moral of which being that the life of a teacher should be above reproach.

The following was the program of the day:

SANTA FE WILL IMPROVE TRACK

Contract Let From Richmond to Bay Point: Work Begins at Once.

RICHMOND, Sept. 20.—The construction of a second track for the main line system of the Santa Fe Railroad company between this city and Bay Point, as the first step in double tracking the system between Richmond and Stockton, is to begin at once. The contract for the work has been let by the railroad company to the Palmer-McBryde Construction company, and the grading contract sublet by that company to a big San Francisco concern.

Scrapers, trams and other equipment for the grading work that has to be done on the line between Richmond and Bay Point before the second track can be laid, are now being unloaded at various places between the two points, while men, teams and camp outfits are being established in the area.

It was announced the first of the year by railroad officials that the double track between Richmond and Stockton would be well under way before the close of the year. The distance between this city and Bay Point is 30 miles and much heavy cutting and filling has to be done between these two points through the hills of Contra Costa county which separate the bay from the interior valleys of the Sacramento division.

Stockton division is but a part of the plan to double track the entire system through the west, and work is also going on in other sections south of here. These improvements necessitate the widening of all tunnels and bridges, which is a monster job, involving hundreds of thousands in expense and, when taken in conjunction with the building of the proposed new $20,000 depot at Richmond, the new ferry slips, extension of the long haul line to the bay, and other improvements here, is making this city a most important terminal point for that great interstate railroad system, and having a tendency to help along the rapid growth of Richmond and its shipping facilities.

Members of the company No. 1 gave a smoker in the headquarters of the company last evening which was well attended and much enjoyed.

Policeman Phil Barry stopped a runaway horse yesterday morning on the corner of Broadway and Broadway, and also a few bumps and bruises. The horse dragged a light wagon it would be subjected to its last night down the busy thoroughfare among automobiles and other vehicles.

The Richmond band will make its first appearance in public concert this evening at the corner of Sixth street and Macdonald avenue, playing choice musical selections from 8:30 till 9:30 o'clock for the edification of the evening throng.

Calvary Baptist church of this city has a new minister in the person of Rev. W. S. Steward, late of Biggs, Cal. The new minister arrived here with his family Wednesday and will preach his first sermon to the local congregation tomorrow.

Joseph H. Lee, a well-known young man of wealth, is being hailed as the champion driver of Heald's business college of Oakland, where he has successfully upheld that institution in its debate with the speakers of the local college of that city.

Rev. Father Sullivan of Our Lady of Angels church is making a number of improvements to the grounds and church building, and it is not an unusual sight to see the reverend gentleman on his hands and knees, assisting the workmen on the grounds.

The Colonial social given by the Sunday school of St. Mark's church Thursday night and yesterday afternoon, proved to be a glowing success. It was something new and was much enjoyed.

U. S. POLICY IS IMPERIALISTIC; BRITISH VIEW

Spectator intimates That is the Attitude of Administration.

Panama Canal Is the Cause Assigned for New Regime.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—"There now is a national foreign policy in the United States, or not, as one chooses," says the Spectator today in summarizing the work of President Wilson's administration. Crediting President Roosevelt with extending the Monroe doctrine so as to establish protection over Santo Domingo and Honduras, the Spectator adds:

"The treaty with Nicaragua, which
Mr. Bryan hopes to have ratified, means that the Democrats have adopted bodily the foreign policy of the Republicans. It seemed unlikely that such a thing ever could happen, but the character of the Nicaragua treaty leaves us in no doubt. It is evident that Mr. Bryan has taken over President Roosevelt's policy—an event comparable with the adoption of Lord
Lansdowne's policy by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary."

"The immediate motive for this national foreign policy of course is to be found in the Panama canal. It is convenient for the United States, which has to protect the canal, that the Caribbean sea should be as far as possible an American sea."

WHEATLAND MURDER
SUSPECTS CAPTURED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Two arrests, both of which the police believe to be in connection with the Wheatland hop field riots of August 3, in which two men were killed and eight injured.

A Nelson was arrested at Marysville and A. M. Johnson at Martinez. Detective Agency, who took the men into custody, believe their capture will lead them close to the slayers of District Attorney G. T. Maxwell and Deputy Sheriff S. Reardon, Yuba county officials, who were killed in the Wheatland outbreak.

Nelson had been watched for several days at Marysville before being arrested by Detective R. B. Henry, Johnson, who recently was released from the Martinez jail, where he served ten days for vagrancy, is said to have confided to Detective Agency that he had been involved in the Wheatland affair, with a "gang." When arrested immediately afterward, he learned that the stranger was a detective.

The Wheatland outbreak, in which Industrial Workers of the World were involved, was one of the most serious labor disturbances in the history of the State. It required a posse of deputies from Sacramento and five companies of State militia to quell the riots, and police and private detectives have since maintained a Statewide search for the leaders.

"RAGGING PULLMAN"
FOR STATE EDUCATORS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—A special card with hardwood floors, designed especially as a dancing Pullman, and christened the "Ragging" car by railroad builders, is to be attached to the State school superintendent's special train when the "convention wheels" leaves Sacramento Sunday night for the five days' tour through northern California.

The railroad company has selected 20 porters with musical talent, so that "ragging" will be easy.

State Superintendent Hyatt said yesterday that the educators would call it the "auditorium" car.

"The 'convention wheels' will be a train of ten cars.

FRUITVALE MOTOR TRAFFIC RISKY
Police Will Regulate Present Abuses of Use of Streets.

FRUITVALE, Sept. 29.—As the result of a complaint made by H. J. Orchard, 4671 Lyon avenue, of the danger caused by motorists through motor traffic at Thirty-eighth and East Fourteenth streets, Chief of Police Petersen has ordered the police in that quarter to exercise stricter control.

In a letter to Commissioner J. C. McLaughlin, Orchard suggests that automobiles be ordered to slow down or stop if necessary at the intersection of Thirty-eighth and East Fourteenth streets, especially when there are street cars there, as passengers alighting from east bound cars invariably step to the rear of the car and are unable to make the approach of automobiles. Orchard also points out that automobiles always travel in the center of the track, and make it extremely dangerous for pedestrians to cross the street.

During the day pedestrians who try to cross the road are often hit by automobiles going both ways, and often on the wrong side of the road. McLaughlin is taking steps to have the traffic at this point more adequately handled.

NEW APPARATUS TO 'SEE IN DARK'
Device May Revolutionize Navigation; Valjeio Man Inventor.

VALLEJO, Sept. 29.—A wireless photographic instrument, which works only at night and which reflects on a mirror a moving picture of all that is going on in a radius of several miles, is the latest invention of a man who is interested in navigation.

The instrument is extremely delicate and receives its impressions from a web of wires erected on a tall mast. For this reason it may be peculiarly adaptable to ships, making impossible right collisions, accidents because of fog or running about of icebergs. It is the invention of F. Spitz of Vallejo, and will be exhibited in Oakland soon under the direction of W. E. Rode and M. C. Blum, who have taken out twenty-seven patents.

The navigator of a ship equipped with such a machine could see on the darkest night the surface of the earth for miles about. A ship was made in Dyerville, where we reached the El River, is an ideal place for touring. It is out of the ordinary in the state. For over fifteen miles we drove through nothing but giant redwoods. It was hard to imagine while going through this section that it could possibly be anywhere near civilization.

AUTOIST REPORTS ON EASTERN ROUTE
Ideal Vacation Tour Is Laid Out for Benefit of Car Owners.

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)
One of the best reports on the road conditions over the Northern California route that is attracting so much attention this year from motorists is brought in by Henry D. McCoy of the Chandler and Lyon supply house, who has just returned from a two weeks' motoring and fishing trip in company with Mrs. McCoy.

The roads from Sausalito to Ukiah were in fairly good shape, but after leaving Ukiah and heading for Eureka, by way of Willits, Harris, the going was not so easy. Between Ukiah and Capella we were forced to take a roundabout way for ten miles to avoid that section, where we are putting in the new state highway. After making the detour, we found the roads pretty good into Willits. In fact, all the way into Laytonville.

From Laytonville, however, the roads were in a fright, being very dusty and under this dust there are considerable small rocks, which are death to tires. Between Laytonville and Cummings the roads are exceptionally bad, the dust being deep and under this dust there are to be found lots of sharp rocks and boulders. Fifteen miles being good speed through this section.

MOTHER LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE
Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it's perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleaning" is often all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups, plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

road is excellent at the present time. There is a stopping place on this route named Dinmore, which is excellent. The road between Dinmore and Peanut has just been taken over and rebuilt by the state highway commission. This section is about thirty miles long and somewhat narrow but well built. It crosses the Van Duzen river and the south fork of the Trinity. We stopped at all these places and found them all excellent.

"No better vacation can be taken for those who love to fish than that which Mrs. McCoy and myself just enjoyed."

ICEMEN HEAR ALL ABOUT "LIQUIFIED AIR"
CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Members of the Third International Congress of Refrigeration today made a tour of inspection of the Union stockyards as guests of the packers.

After being entertained at luncheon by the packers the visitors attended the international meeting of ice men. Technical subjects were discussed in scores of papers read at the six sections of the congress.

M. George Claude, of Paris, delivered a lecture on "Liquified Air," with practical demonstrations of its uses in commercial refrigeration.

INVENTOR DIES.
BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Frederick Winthrop Thayer, Harvard, 78, captain of the famous Harvard baseball teams of 1876, 1877 and 1878, and inventor of the catcher's mask, which changed the entire history of the game, died here today. He was born at home in Cohasset, aged 53. Death was due to heart failure. He engaged in the wool business after graduating.

A man may have a feeling of security and yet be very close to danger.
He may feel confident that the title to his home or to the property on which he holds a mortgage is perfect.

He feels that way because he has a Certificate of Title telling him so.

But it may be the certificate is wrong. In that case his protection from loss is very slight.

be Vote Against Sound Money.

That the silver fallacy is not dead yet was shown by the vote on the Wingo amendment to the currency bill. Sixty-seven Democrats voted against a provision which merely recited that nothing contained in the currency bill should be construed to repeal the Gold Standard Act approved by President McKinley. The amendment reads as follows:

"That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to repeal the parity provision or provisions contained in an act approved March 14, 1900, entitled, 'An Act to define and fix the standard of value, to maintain the parity of all forms of money issued or coined by the United States to refund the public debt and for other purposes.'"

Only a hope that a restoration of the double standard may yet be brought about could have prompted the votes cast against this amendment, which did not even pledge the party in power to the provisions of the currency bill were not to be construed as affecting the existing monetary standard.

The ghost of free silver is not laid yet. Neither has the paper money craze subsided. The Democrats who voted against the Wingo amendment are men tainted with the economic heresies of Populism. They not only believe in free silver and rag money inflation, but many of them are in favor of the government loaning money in unlimited quantities on perishable agricultural products and establishing a government warehouse system that will enable farmers to lock up their products and create artificial scarcity. These same men are constantly declaiming against the high cost of living. At the same time they want the government to back corners in food products.

The Wingo amendment is simply an assurance of financial stability. It was unnecessary apparently till the character of the opposition to it developed. Sound money is still the object of Populistic attack, and it seems that the Democratic majority in Congress includes a large Populist contingent.

President Wilson's determination to provide credit for farmers is commendable. He will have no trouble in carrying out his project if the farmers will only provide themselves with collateral. Finance has not been so highly developed yet as to make it safe to lend money on a pauper's oath.

The omniscient ignorance of American history often displayed by the great New York dailies is aptly illustrated by the Herald's editorial statement that no member of the Senate ever became President. Should the Herald claim that it meant to convey the idea that no man ever stepped out of the Senate into the Presidency, it is enough to say that Garfield had been elected to the Senate although he had not taken his seat when he was translated to the Presidential chair. James Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Martin Van Buren, Franklin Pierce, James Buchanan and Benjamin Harrison all served in the Senate prior to becoming President. The Herald's editorial writer simply drew upon his imagination for his facts. He was displaying the proverbial Manhattan contempt for all things west of the Hudson in instructing the heathen far removed from the lights of Broadway. But the New York Sun, which is edited with a singular regard for accuracy, tells the Herald man that his history is on crooked. The correction is not likely to cause James Gordon Bennett to cease trusting to the elevator boy the task of writing editorials for the Herald. Still he ought to get an office cat.

Authors as Diplomats.

Brand Whitlock refuses to run again for Mayor of Toledo. He will go abroad as a diplomatic representative of the United States. President Wilson has shown a marked preference for literary profession in choosing men for the diplomatic service. Our Ambassadors to England and Italy are authors and appropriately named Page.

During the greatest crisis through which this country ever passed, the period of the war between the States, the envoys to England and France were literary men. John Lothrop Motley was the plenipotentiary to the court of St. James and John Bigelow, the biographer of Samuel J. Tilden, held a similar position at the Tuilleries. Both made good. Subsequently James Russell Lowell represented the United States with distinguished success in Great Britain. More recently, Mr. White, a man of letters, was Ambassador to Germany.

In France, writers have for many years led in the Chamber of Deputies and in diplomacy. Political preferment has also followed literary success in England. Lord Lytton, a poet and the son of a novelist, was viceroy of India.

Washington Irving was once minister to Spain, and to that mission the world owes "The Chronicle of the Conquest of Granada," the "Tales of the Alhambra" and "Mahomet and His Successors," classics with which every lover of books is familiar.

Disraeli was a successful novelist before he became a great political leader. The pen is still mightier than the sword.

So President Wilson is but following the example set by the illustrious Lincoln in sending distinguished men of letters to represent the republic abroad. He is also following precedents set in England and France. It is to be hoped that his selections will be as happy as Lincoln's. Multi-millionaires have not demonstrated diplomatic ability, nor have they increased respect abroad for American diplomacy or republican institutions.

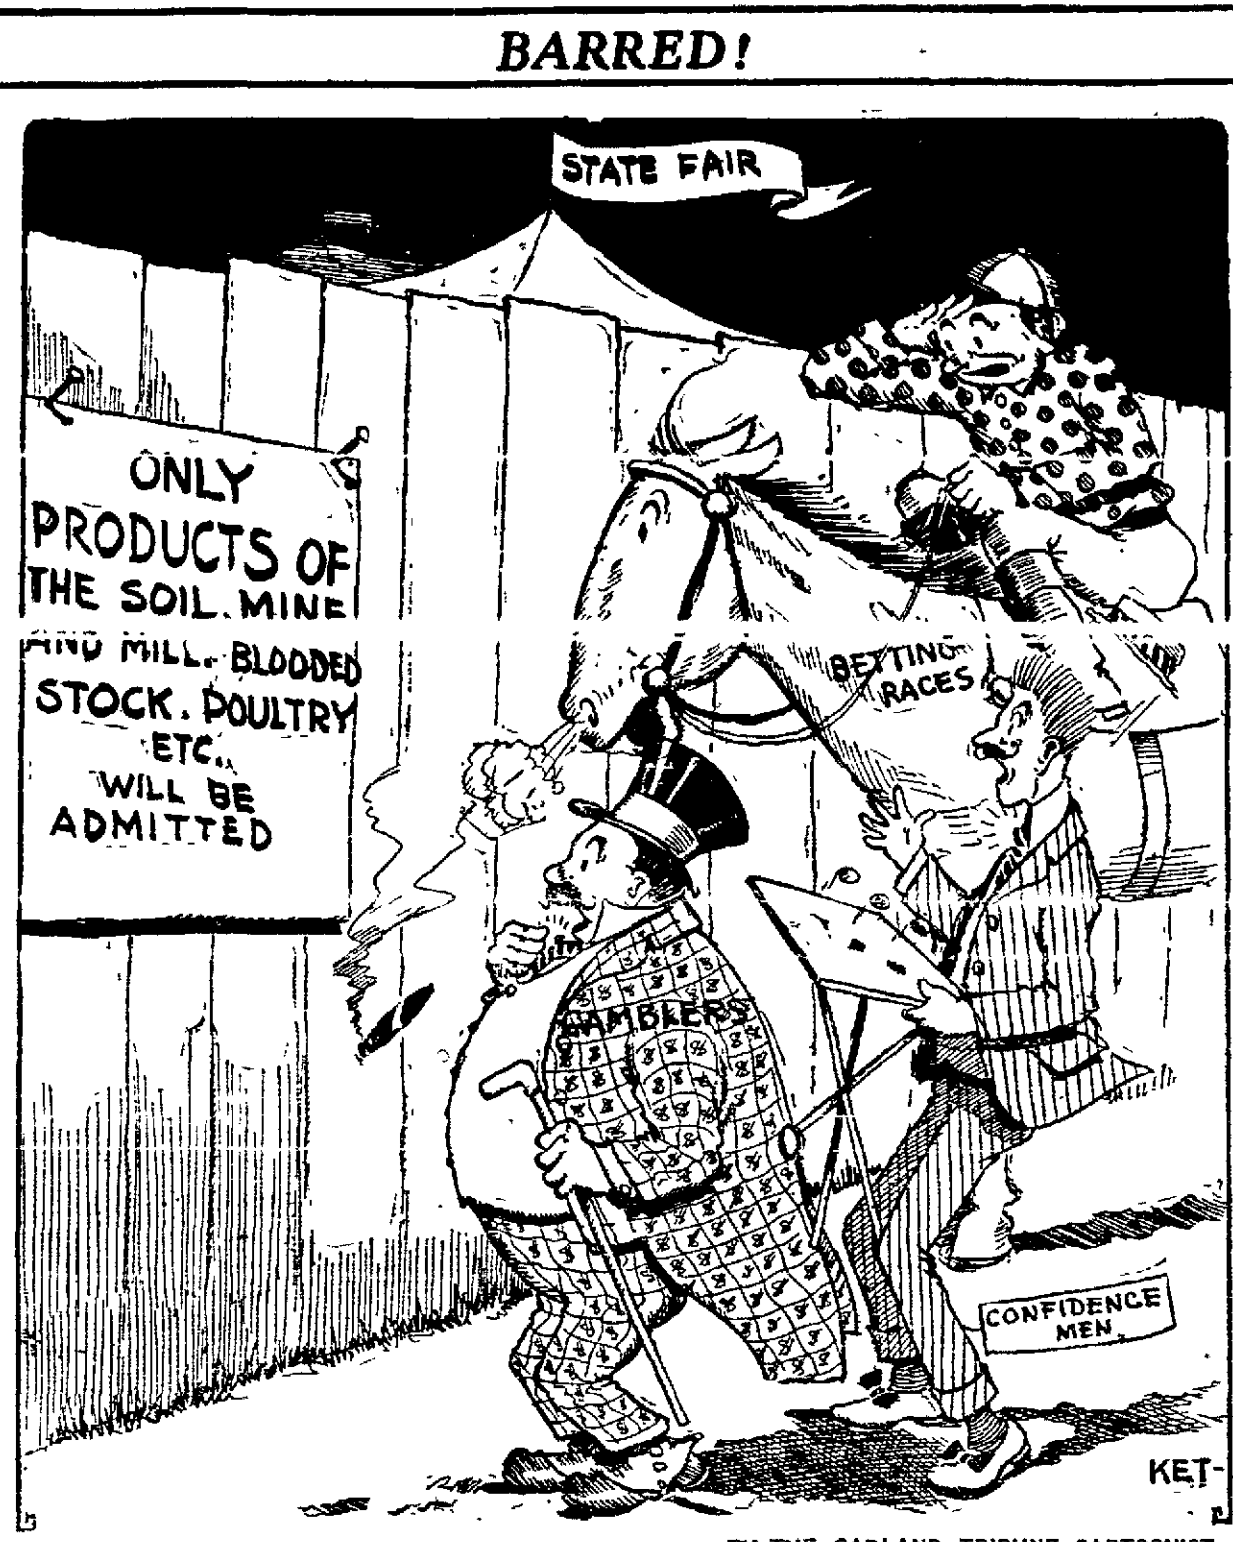

Elk in California.

A request to the government for fifty elk has been made by the Nevada Fish and Game Commission. It is proposed to turn the animals loose in the Granite Mountain district, in the hope they will breed and multiply. Elk have become so numerous in the Yellowstone Park and the Jackson Hole country that they starved last winter for want of food.

Why not stock the Yosemite national park with elk? For years elk roamed the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys in California. When gold was first discovered in California elk were everywhere.

Being unprotected by game laws, the elk were slaughtered by hunters, in season and out, that they were speedily exterminated. By 1890 they had completely disappeared from the state. An attempt should be made to bring them back to the state and a chance to multiply in the government's mountain parks.

A Way to End Extortion.

It has been reported that the intimation given out recently of the possibility of the municipality acquiring a big dredger and doing its own dredging on the southern and western waterfronts has reduced the latest bids $100,000 below the official estimate of the cost of excavating a million cubic yards in front of the quay wall. And yet the price of the lowest bid is stated, we think, at 12 cents per cubic yard.

Dredging for gold, including the operation of saving the gold, from the auriferous gravel and the underlying bedrock and depositing the debris on the banks, in the Feather river and Yuba river bottoms, costs from 3 1/4 to 4 cents per cubic yard, and one, at least, of the dredgers excavates pay dirt to the depth of eighty feet and the waste is deposited at an elevation of from twenty-five to thirty feet above the level of the basin in which the machine is operated. The depth of the excavations range from twenty-five to eighty feet.

On the Atlantic seaboard, the Mining and Engineering Journal some years ago declared, in a lengthy article published on the subject and written by an experienced engineer, that government harbor dredging was performed there at various points under contract at a rate ranging from 3 1/2 to 5 cents per cubic yard. The excavation was from twenty-five to thirty feet below tide level and the spoil was carried through pipes to the point of discharge on the marshlands from 1200 to 2000 feet from the point of excavation.

Why should the city of Oakland or the Federal government allow themselves to be robbed so outrageously as they have been by the dredging companies?

The Federal government has paid from 12 to 49 cents per cubic yard for dredging the channel in Oakland harbor. Colonel Von Schmidt had a contract during Colonel Mendell's time for dredging Brooklyn basin to a depth of only eight feet for which he got 49 cents per cubic yard. Besides he and Mendell were in joint partnership in a large acreage of Alameda marshland which was reclaimed without cost with the mud dredged from the basin. If the Commissioner of Public Works sincerely wants to get at the true cost of dredging, the information is easily obtainable.

Congress and the President.

The currency bill has been through the House in short order. Its passage is due to firm insistence of the President. It will go through the Senate because he desires it, although the Democratic leaders of that body do not want to deal with the currency question during the extra session. But the President is boss, and Congress will jump through the hoop when it is told. It is apparent that neither house is legislating of its own free will. The executive is giving the law to the legislative branch of the government. Wilson dominates Congress because his party is back of him with singular unanimity. He is not blamed for the acts of his subordinates, but he is credited for the big things done in and out of Congress. McReynolds has been discredited, but his discredit has not touched the White House. Bryan has made himself an object of ridicule, but nobody laughs at the President. Secretary Daniels has got himself in a stew, but not a drop of the gravy has been spilled on his chief. All the mistakes are charged up to subordinates; all the credit goes to the iceman. The tariff and currency bills are as much Wilson's as if he had promulgated them by edict instead of having Congress pass them.

of leadership the history of this country affords. If the laws have the effect he anticipates, his leadership, to call it by a polite name, will be vindicated, but if they fail it is doubtful if he can be made to shoulder the blame. Wilson has a hold on the popular mind not easy to measure, and which is still less easy to account for. It is plain that Congress fears him because the

GROWTH OF ENGLISH SPEECH

The poverty and impressiveness of our ordinary speech strikes us anew whenever a revised dictionary with its added verbal wealth makes its appearance. Notwithstanding the amazing growth of the English tongue—scholars say there are added to it something like 5000 words a year—there is no apparent gain in the richness and force of our daily talk, so that it is hard to see wherein we are better off than our ancestors. Few of us, for example, express ourselves with more skill than Shakespeare or even Milton in spite of our incomparable advantages. The truth is we forget about as many words as we learn, and language doesn't grow like a cornucopia. We can't even be certain that only the best words will stick most successfully to the general tongue.

According to one of the editors of the Standard Dictionary—a new edition of which will appear in the fall—there are now about 450,000 words that can be recognized as English, which is quite an advance over those known to Dr. Johnson. We now know that Dr. Johnson, for all his erudition, overlooked a good many words that might have been included in the monument of his labors, so that it is misleading to assume that the English tongue has added something like 400,000 words since his death. So wonderful and impressive a thing is scholarship that the men who are now working on the great Oxford dictionary will be able to give us, when they complete their labors, a much more accurate notion as to how many English words there were when Johnson wrote.

But looking at these great modern dictionaries converts a sharp reproach to the mind that makes us far from comfortable. Nobody, of course, aspires to swallow 450,000 words; the mental indigestion would be simply appalling. But we are not to be accused of vast laziness in allowing such riches to go unexplored, or in exploring them at long intervals only? The new dictionaries, with their accurate and loving scholarship, are no mere word books; they show us in the history of words the history of ideas and the history of our forefathers.—Chicago Record-Herald.

NICKEL IS NEW DESIGN: IT HAS NOT COUNTERFEIT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Nathan S. Koppelman, counterfeit maker, was stated by secret service officials today, are disturbing many people throughout the country. Complaints of counterfeiting are pouring into the treasury department, but Acting Chief Herman Moran says the apprehension is due to unfamiliarity with the fact that the department recently made a slight change in the new coin. In the revised design the nickel "five-cent" piece has got out in greater relief than in the original. This difference gives rise to reports of counterfeits.

BRIEF BITS

At one time was the common duty of both the plaintiff and defendant in legal actions to supply refreshments for the jury impaneled to try it, and from this arose the practice which survived in England until 1870 of darning them "meat, drink or fire" while deliberating on their verdict. Later on it became usual for the person in whose favor the verdict was given to offer the jury a dinner, and sometimes a guinea or so for their trouble. This practice led to so much abuse that it was found necessary to pass a law prohibiting it.

HOCKS NAMED TO HIGH POSITION

Will Be First Grand Vice-President of the Big Order.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Supervisor Oscar Hocks of San Francisco was elected first grand vice-president of the Sons of Hermann yesterday at the national convention. As it has been often the custom to advance the first grand vice-presidency to the presidency, it is probable the San Francisco man will be chosen head of the organization at the next national convention.

C. J. von Rosenberg of La Grange, Tex., former first grand vice-president, was elected national president; F. Matthews of Nebraska was chosen second grand vice-president; R. Schaeffer of Connecticut, grand secretary; Fred Ziegler of Minnesota, grand treasurer; E. Schuetz of Texas, grand guide; John Schneider of Nebraska, grand trustee; and E. E. Drexler of Florida, grand outside guard. Lawrence, Mass., was chosen as the next meeting place of the convention. The grand lodge authorized the president to appoint four grand deputies to represent him in various sections of the country. The president will divide the whole country into four sections and will name a deputy for each. This was done to obviate the necessity of travel for the president.

The delegates took an auto trip around Golden Gate Park, visited the Presidio and the 1915 exposition grounds. The banquet of the Grand Lodge tonight in a measure will be a tribute to Supervisor Hocks, who will be the ranking officer present. Many of the delegates are celebrating their forty-third birthday, and Mayor Rolph and other city officials will join the Hermann Sons in celebrating the occasion. Grand President von Rosenberg left for his Texas home yesterday because of the sudden illness of his mother.

The Hermann Sons held their final business session today.

ATTEMPT MADE TO WRECK LONG BEACH ELECTRIC

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—An attempt was made to wreck a Pacific Electric train early yesterday at Long Beach. A railroad tie was placed across the westbound tracks, but it was found by a crew of a Pacific Electric car going in the opposite direction and removed.

This makes the fifth attempt to wreck shore-bound trains on the Pacific Electric and the police of all beach cities are again at work trying to learn the identity of the would-be train wreckers. The police believe a Mexican or some disgruntled laborer probably is responsible for the attempts.

RADICALS LOSE IN SOCIALIST FIGHT

National Congress Adopts Resolutions Favoring Armament Tax.

Follows the Defeat of Element Which Wanted General Strike.

JENA, Germany, Sept. 20.—The radical section of the Social Democratic party today scored a second defeat.

The Socialist congress when the congress adopted a resolution implying approval of the stand taken by the Socialist members of the Reichstag favoring the imposition of taxes for the purchase of armaments. The vote on the resolution was 636 to 140.

The first defeat of the radicals occurred last Tuesday when the congress voted against calling a general strike as a means for furthering the Socialist political propaganda.

Rosa Luxemburg, the woman Socialist, Georg Ledebour and others of the radical leaders in the warm debate that preceded the adoption of the resolution yesterday, attacked the members of the Reichstag who voted in the chamber in favor of the armament tax, declaring their support of the government measures was a betrayal of the party's anti-military principles.

A growing subscription list attests to the interest already aroused in the Committee's plans for a better Oakland, and the indications are that there will be a large increase in membership in the near future now that the Committee's activities are so well under way.

McKEE IS PRESIDENT OF STANFORD SENIORS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 20. Paul B. McKee of San Francisco, varsity track captain, was yesterday afternoon chosen to the presidency of the senior class in a close contest with Herman L. He is a member of Sigma Chi and Snakes honor society, Quadrangle Club, interscholastic board of governors, university conference and Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

Miss Gladys W. Briggs of Santa Ana was the successful candidate for the secretaryship. She is a member of Kappa Alpha sorority and registers in the French department. Thomas H. MAKE OBJECTION TO INTERSTATE RATE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 20.—Because the Great Northern from Comstock, Minn., on the Red River, runs seven and one-half miles through North Dakota, that company is charging an interstate rate of 10 1/2 cents a hundred pounds on grain to Minneapolis. As the result of this charge, shippers of that section complained to the state railway commission urging that the rate be compelled to establish the state rate.

The commission withheld decision.

For a number of months he had been ill, but continued at his post despite the fact that he was ill. He was at one time stationed in the Sacramento shops, where the extreme climate weakened him and caused him to leave that city. He had been in the employ of the Western Pacific for the past four years.

The deceased was born in Ohio, but received his education in Grand Island, Nebraska. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Elva Stuft and a daughter, Maxine Stuft of this city.

The Meddler

ONE of the main topics of conversation in smart set circles on both sides of the bay is the appearance in the world of drama of Mrs. A. W. Scott of San Francisco. People have gone quite mad over her across the bay, and on all sides one hears that a star of the first magnitude has dawned in the dramatic horizon. Everyone is filled with astonishment and the crowds who flocked to the Tivoli through curiosity have come again and again and have spread the news that again, from California, a genius shines out upon the world.

Mrs. Scott has given across the bay very wonderful interpretations of "Magda" and of "Mary Magdalene"—there is all the fire that has characterized the "Magdas" of the well-known stars, but there is something more in Mrs. Scott's work, a rare psychological interpretation of beautiful charm.

In the Mary Magdalene there is a spirituality that is deeply appealing. San Francisco has been stirred to a pitch of admiration not often characteristic of the city across the bay, and it must be said of the latter city that some of the best dramatic critics in the world are there. From them all has come only the great note of praise. Lo, an actress has praise in her own city, and Mrs. Scott's career on the stage is definitely determined. If she chooses to remain on the stage and work for charity her way of doing good in the world, so much the better for charity, and for the higher uplift of the stage.

"Mary Magdalene," Maeterlinck's drama, is being played in Paris and in New York; it is a very daring and remarkable play and in New York the main character is being taken by Olga Nethersole.

Never before in California has there been known such wonderful attention to details as in Mary Magdalene. Old prints have been studied, likewise pictures by great masters. Mr. Scott, who has taken the keenest interest in everything relating to his wife's appearance on the stage, has called to his assistance the university professors and other historical experts, so that the setting is altogether wonderful.

The gardens of Bethany are of rare beauty, as is the wonderful villa, where Mary Magdalene lives in regal luxury. It is a magnificent setting for a woman of rare personal charm, and Mrs. Scott is a stunning Magdalene, a woman of rare physical charms. She is a superb study in the heart of one of the most magnificent garden scenes presented in modern times on the stage.

In the second act there is the interior of the extravagant and luxurious villa of Mary Magdalene. She is of great beauty, and one sees her in very dazzling costumes.

The third scene is at night in the supper room in the house of Joseph of Arimathea in Jerusalem, and in the climax of the play we see that Mary Magdalene passes from lawless paganism in the first act to a troubled spirit in the second, while in the third she has the soul of a martyr.

Mrs. Scott bids fair to be one of the most successful Magdalenes on the modern stage, and it is one of the most difficult roles to portray.

In "Magda," which was Modjeska's favorite role, Mrs. Scott scores an equal success. It is Sudermann's most powerful and most tragic drama. One reads of it that:

"Magda will live for all times as the spirit of womanhood incarnate striving to burst the fetters of the ages' oppression."

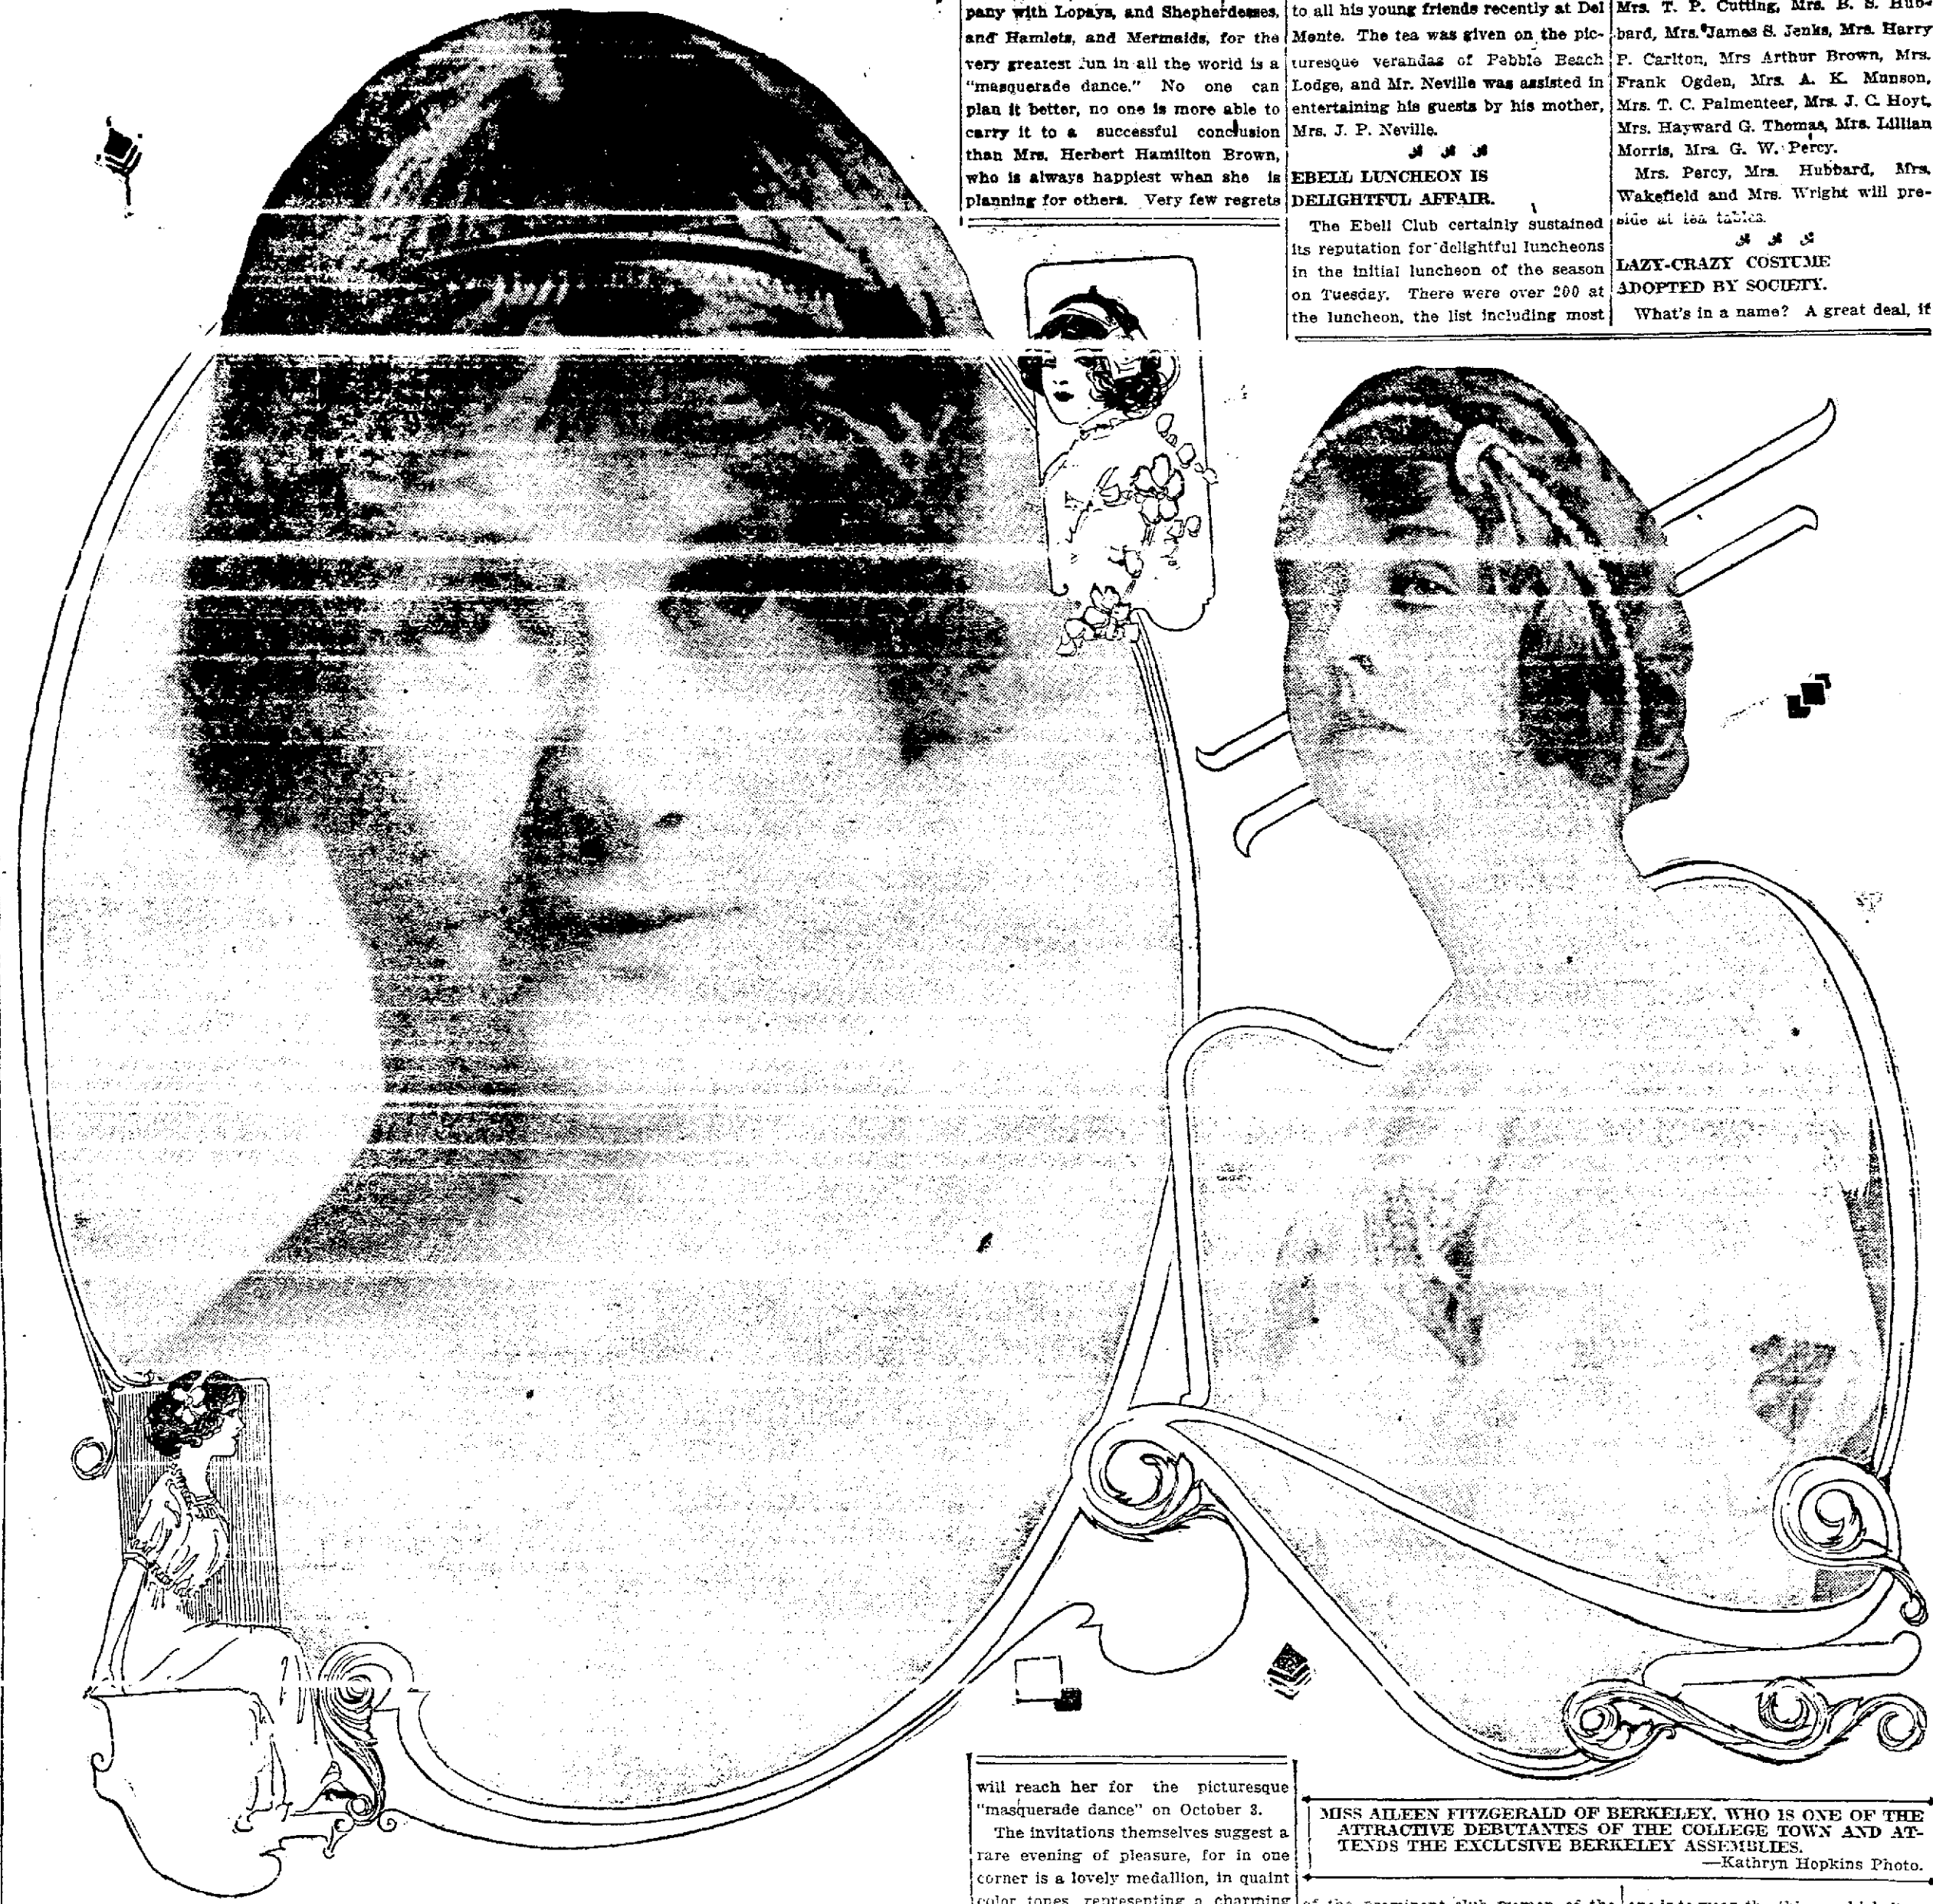

Mrs. Scott shows wonderful temperament in dealing with the passionate appeal of Magda—with her agony, her shame, her suffering—when she flings her protest at her father, and because of his intolerance and oppression holds him responsible for the great tragedy of her life.

It is most interesting to read of the many details that go to make up the fascinating environment of these two great plays.

In "Magda" we have the setting of the old-fashioned German home. And here on the stage we see the old sideboard that has been in the Scott family half a century, and the quaint old horse hair chairs that came "around the Horn."

The magnificent stage curtains belong to the Scotts, and they are taking them with them to all the theaters. They are great magnificent curtains of heavy green velvet, with the superb most monogram in gold.

THE play of "Magda" has been seen as the companion piece to "Mary Magdalene" in that it offers a most possible contrast in every detail of the lavish, comfortable life of the latter, compared with the life of the former.

barbaric display of wealth and paganism of Rome and the crude realism of Judea, the scene of "Magda" is within a German home, showing all the thrift and care and comfort, but at the same time the narrowness, the restrictions and ignorance by which Magda was fettered. The lights and shades in the character of Magda and their contrast with the heroic character of the Magdalene make in the two plays a gamut of emotion which calls forth every phase of the brilliant ability of Mrs. Scott, while the beautiful modern gowning in "Magda" forms a direct antithesis to the lavish display of the Roman's plaything.

The costumes of Mrs. Scott in "Mary Magdalene" have been prepared from her own original studies and executed by Madame Paton. In "Magda" her costumes as a great operatic star represent the last word in European fashion of the present day, and are the latest Parisian models imported especially for this production. In each performance of "Magda" Mrs. Scott will appear in an entirely different combination of most beautiful modern gowns.

No such gowns have been seen in many years, on our Oakland stage. One gown of peacock feather effect has created a great sensation, and in the Mary Magdalene costume Mrs. Scott is literally loaded with wonderful jewels.

She will give "Magda" at the Macdonough Theater on Wednesday night, and already the house is practically sold out, and it bids fair to be one of the brilliant first nights Oakland has seen in many a month. One almost loses sight of the fact that everything over expenses goes to our Ladies Relief Association, that well-loved philanthropy of which Miss Matilda Brown is president, and over whose destinies for many years well known women have presided, among them being Mrs. Spencer Brown, Miss Annie Miner, Miss Hallie Bakewell, Miss Wellman, Mrs. Frank Weston, Mrs. George Greenwood, Mrs. William Henshaw, Mrs. Eccleston, Miss Mona Crellin, Mrs. Harry East Miller, Mrs. Harrison Clay, Mrs. Henry Miles Bull, Mrs. H. S. Kergan—but one might go on and enumerate a long list of names belonging to those to whom the interests of the old ladies and the little children are very dear indeed. May they have a fine financial return, for they certainly have a great star playing in their interests.

There will be two matinees next week at the Macdonough, Mrs. Scott playing on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

The Scotts will go as far south as San Diego, and one hears that it is quite possible that the ultimate destination of Mrs. Scott and her company will be New York.

To the rumors, however, that she is going on the stage permanently, Mrs. Scott gives her own answer in an interview which is being quoted all over the country:

"In my dramatic ventures Mr. Scott is my encourager and adviser. He knows how foolish is that gossip which has it that I would ever leave my home and family for the elusive rewards of the stage. I am, unfortunately, were differently situated, and had to seek a means of livelihood, naturally I would turn to the stage as the medium for what gifts I may possess; but that contingency, thank God, seems far removed and my home life is in no jeopardy through an errant ambition to shine as a professional player.

"Nevertheless, I enjoy my little sorties into the realm of the drama and am encouraged to believe that by finding good plays—plays that mean something, that teach something—and producing them at my own risk and turning over what profits accrue to some noble work in behalf of humanity, I am doing something in the world to make it better, and this, it seems to me, is far better than a life spent exclusively in an atmosphere of bridge whist or turkey trotting."

But it is hard to say the last word in this affair—when fame lies just at a woman's feet.

MRS. HERBERT H. BROWN'S "MASQUERADE DANCE."

Never have social events loomed up in the future in a more alluring fashion. Among the first cards to arrive are invitations sent out in the most picturesque way by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown. They are requesting the company of their friends for Friday evening, October 2, at the Claremont Country Club.

To the joy of everyone, the cards announce a "Masquerade Dance," and members of the smart set are on the qui vive in regard to it, choosing costumes and planning different character effects.

There will be of course, Polly, and Night, and Morning, and the Villain, and Mephistopheles, and Cleopatra, of course. It is quite wonderful now every one wants to be Cleopatra. All the famous women of history—Marie Antoinette, Josephine, Madame de Lamballe—will probably dance the merry tango at the Claremont Club. They will be doubt have plenty of company with Lopays, and Shepherdesses, and Hamlets, and Mermaids, for the very greatest fun in all the world is a "masquerade dance." No one can plan it better, no one is more able to carry it to a successful conclusion than Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown, who is always happiest when she is planning for others. Very few regrets to all his young friends recently at Del Monte. The tea was given on the picturesque verandas of Pebble Beach Lodge, and Mr. Neville was assisted in entertaining his guests by his mother, Mrs. J. P. Neville.

EBELL LUNCHEON IS DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR.

The Ebell Club certainly sustained its reputation for delightful luncheons in the initial luncheon of the season on Tuesday. There were over 200 at the luncheon, the list including most

Mrs. T. P. Cutting, Mrs. B. S. Hubbard, Mrs. James S. Jenks, Mrs. Harry P. Carlton, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Frank Ogden, Mrs. A. K. Munson, Mrs. T. C. Palmenter, Mrs. J. C. Hoyt, Mrs. Hayward G. Thomas, Mrs. Lillian Morris, Mrs. G. W. Percy, Mrs. Mrs. Percy, Mrs. Hubbard, Mrs. Wakefield and Mrs. Wright will preside at tea tables.

LAZY-CRAZY COSTUME ADOPTED BY SOCIETY.

What's in a name? A great deal, if will reach her for the picturesque "masquerade dance" on October 3.

The invitations themselves suggest a rare evening of pleasure, for in one corner is a lovely medallion, in quaint color tones, representing a charming dance. A troubadour plays on the guitar, a lovely lady plays on the harp, and the pretty picture and the quaint musicians bid us haste way to the charming masquerade dance given by one of the sweetest and dearest hostesses in the wide world.

MISS ANNIE MILLER SENDS OUT CARDS.

Miss Annie Miller has sent out cards for a tea in honor of her sister, Mrs. John E. Mhoon (Charlotte Miller). Mrs. Mhoon and her daughter, Miss Marjorie Mhoon, have recently returned from an extended trip abroad, and the reception is given as a delightful welcome home for her. Miss Marjorie Mhoon is a charming young girl who has not yet made her debut. Her school days were passed in Pasadena, where the family home was for many years, and many old friends of the family will meet Miss Mhoon for the first time at the tea to be given by her aunt, Miss Annie Miller. There are many relatives of the Miller family, but some of them are planning to be away this autumn. The H. M. A. Millers and the C. O. G. Millers have gone East, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry East Miller leave in the near future for the East and Europe.

Miss Miller and her brother are building a fine residence at Piedmont, not far from the home of Miss Miller's cousin, Mrs. Mark Requa. The new house has one of the most commanding sites at Piedmont, and is very unique in its architectural treatment. The tea in honor of Mrs. Mhoon will be one of the most delightful social events of the September days.

JACK NEVILLE IS HOST AT MONTEREY.

Among the brightest of the recent teas was one which Jack Neville gave of the prominent club women of the city. It was the first reunion after the vacation, and the atmosphere of friends meeting again after an absence of many weeks.

Mrs. A. C. Posey, the clever and able president of the club, received the guests of the day, and she was assisted by an interesting receiving party. The decorations of the tables were in yellow, and the menu was very daintily planned. The program was most interesting, and although Tuesday was one of the very hottest days of the season, the interest of the listeners never flagged an instant during the able address of Mr. Davis on the "Admission of California."

Among the many prominent people at the luncheon were:

Mrs. A. C. Posey, Mrs. Amanda Smith, Mrs. Joseph L. Knowlton, Mrs. Frank Lovitt, Mrs. J. R. Scapham, Mrs. Annie Florence, Mrs. Randolph Brown, Mrs. J. Walker, Mrs. Kate Bulkeley, Mrs. Florence Nuthall, Mrs. Milton Bulkeley, Mrs. Frank B. Ogden, Mrs. C. C. Condit, Mrs. Frederick Morse, Mrs. William Morris, Mrs. J. R. Scapham, Mrs. Kleged, Mrs. C. H. King, Mrs. Annie Connors, Mrs. C. W. Kinsey, Mrs. George W. Burdell, Mrs. H. S. Kergan, Mrs. J. Loran Pease, Mrs. Hugh Hogan, Mrs. Matilda Brown, Mrs. Janet Haight, Mrs. George E. Gross, Mrs. E. D. Yorker, Mrs. Guy C. Earl, Mrs. Sam Bell Wakefield, Mrs. J. T. Carothers, Mrs. Harry Carlton, Mrs. John Bakewell.

On Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 23, Mr. Richard Fuller will be the speaker of the afternoon, and the subject of his lecture will be "Cleopatra and Her Children." Most of us are familiar with many phases of the life of the famous sorceress of the Nile, but we have known little, if we have known at all, of her children. So the lecture will in all probability be of absorbing interest. The receiving hostess will be Mrs. Guy C. Earl, and she will be assisted by the board of directors, and by Mrs. J. T. Wright, Mrs. Thomas Phoby, Mrs. Frank Adams, Mrs. Sam Bell Wakefield, and one is to wear the things which it represents. For this season the smart matron may wear the "Lazy-Crazy Costume," or "The Panther," or "Sweet Simplicity," or the "Spirit of Spring."

The "Lazy-Crazy" costume, a model so bizarre that only its French chic saves it from appearing absurd, promises to be the rage in Paris. The quaint little jacket is fastened all awry; the first button placed in the third buttonhole, or vice versa. There is something fascinating in this eccentricity.

The color combination is distinctly noisy. It reminds one of a Strauss masterpiece—brilliant and compelling. The royal blue of the cuffs and collar contrasts splendidly with the deep mustard tone of the coat. The skirt, of dull, supple stuff, is trimmed with the double tunic, a style which threatens to become the most popular of any before the season is far advanced. Emerald green, absinthie cherry, and brick red are also favored by the exclusive designers. With the promise of this gay assemblage of color it may be predicted that this is to be a cheerful winter.

CHARITY CARD PARTY AT HOTEL.

An autumn date of much interest is scheduled for October 4, when there will be a large card party given at the Hotel Oakland by members of the Children's Hospital Association. The most successful of the larger social dates of last winter were the card parties given at the Hotel Oakland. The ivory ball room is an ideal place for a card afternoon. One may meet all one's friends there, since the big room is so large, and to one who is at all artistic it is a rare joy to spend the afternoon in the superb ball room. Besides, almost every one plays cards these cars, and an afternoon at the Oakland Hotel around a card table is time spent under the loveliest auspices.

Mrs. William Thornton Blackburn, well known for her efficient work in philanthropy, is the president of the association, and she has a most efficient board of directors.

There is to be a list of prominent patronesses, to be announced in the near future, and the card party promises to be an exceedingly interesting

SHAKESPEARIAN RECITAL TO CALL OUT SOCIETY.

One of the most important events of next week will be the Shakespearean recital given on Saturday, at 11 o'clock, in the ball room of the Hotel Oakland.

The recital will be given by Marshall Darrach, one of the finest interpreters of Shakespeare in the country. His recitals, both in New York and San Francisco, are notable social affairs, society always being much in evidence. Mr. Darrach is considered the finest interpreter of Shakespeare, in his unique and original method of presenting the plays. He recites them from memory and impersonates each of the varied characters. He has chosen for the morning at the Hotel Oakland the play of "Julius Caesar," which is considered one of his best efforts.

The patronesses for Mr. Darrach's recital include some of the most prominent matrons of our city, and the list includes:

Mrs. Philip E. Bowles, Mrs. Robert Phelps, Mrs. William Shero, Mrs. E. B. Peck, Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Mrs. Sam Bell McKee, Mrs. Frank Havens, Mrs. Willard Williams, Mrs. David Easton, Mrs. Ernest Palmer, Mrs. Thomas Griffin, Mrs. A. E. Phelan, Mrs. Donald Seaford, Mrs. John C. Brittain, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Samuel Taylor, Mrs. William E. Creed, Mrs. Robert Fitz, Mrs. W. A. Barbour, Mrs. Harry Alston, Mrs. Samuel Hobbs, Mrs. George Whitney, Mrs. E. L. Dow, Mrs. Thomas Oney, Mrs. Arthur Adams, Mrs. John L. Howard, Mrs. Peter Huescher, Mrs. Alvin Choklering, Mrs. Harry East, Mrs. Henry C. Davis, Mrs. Charles H. Lottell, Mrs. Charles Mills, Mrs. John Francis Smith, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. George Jones, Lobbe.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Darrach (Marle Macdermot Walton) have just returned from a wedding trip to Japan. They are to leave in the near future for New York, where their home will be established and where Mr. Darrach has many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Rawlings, who have been abroad all summer, are on their way home. Immediately on their return Mr. Rawlings will go to Mexico to attend to his mining interests. They have recently purchased the Rawlings home on Santa Clara avenue, which they will occupy this winter. Mrs. Rawlings and Miss Jane Rawlings are making their permanent home in Los Gatos.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

In the Meddler today are two mem-east bay circles who will make their debut some time in the future. Miss Enid Wilson and Miss Katherine Kessler, both graduates of the June class of Miss Head's school in Berkeley, are now taking an active part in a number of affairs that are being planned for some of the members of the class in Eastern colleges.

Miss Aileen Fitzgerald is one of the most attractive girls in the younger ball room of the St. Francis on every Tuesday and Friday afternoons during the coming season. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Crane are to manage these "dancing teas," and they will have the support of a long list of patronesses, many of whom are among our best known young matrons. They will supervise the invitation list, and one hears that these dances will be managed in very much the same way as were the St. Francis concerts.

GUEST OF HONOR.

Many compliments are being offered to popular Mrs. Harry East Miller, of whom her friends are so fond. The motif for the complimentary affairs is her departure for the East and Europe, and the Millers plan to remain away almost a year.

Mrs. Harrison East entertained for her sister, Mrs. Miller, on Wednesday, receiving nearly 200 guests at a very elaborate reception at her home on Euclid avenue. The "at home" was exceptionally delightful, since Mrs. Clay knows so many charming people. It was again an occasion where friends met after a summer spent away.

The flowers in Mrs. Clay's drawing-room were lovely and the stringed orchestra added much to the gaiety of the scene.

Among the many friends invited to the "at home" in honor of Mrs. Harry East Miller were:

Mrs. Isaac Regua, Mrs. Thomas Oney, Mrs. Mark Regua, Mrs. Leslie Miller, Mrs. Oscar Long, Mrs. E. B. Beck, Mrs. Henry Nichols, Mrs. H. C. Taft, Mrs. Sarah Horton, Mrs. Maxwell Taft, Mrs. George Hamner, Mrs. Florance Brown, Mrs. George McVay, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. P. E. Bowles, Mrs. Howard Thomas, Mrs. Edward Hayston, Mrs. S. B. McKee, Mrs. Willard Williams, Mrs. Spence Black, Mrs. Bernard Ford, Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Mrs. Robert Lee, Mrs. Charles Parcella, Mrs. Stephen, Mrs. Paul Dinmore, Mrs. Warren Harrold, Mrs. Christie Taft, Mrs. Philip Clay, Mrs. William White, Mrs. John F. Conners, Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. Robert Fitz, Mrs. John Donnan, Mrs. Viola Griffin, Mrs. Edward Borge, Mrs. Viole Goodall, Mrs. William Ede, Mrs. Harry Knowles, Mrs. Walter Parcella, Mrs. Howard Bray, Mrs. Frank Proctor, Mrs. Madeline Conner, Mrs. Dennis Searles, Mrs. C. Goodwin, Mrs. William de, Mrs. Harry Adams, Mrs. Herbert Brown, Mrs. Henry Nichols, Mrs. Harry Farr, Mrs. N. A. Acker, Mrs. Arthur Griffin, Mrs. Helen Acker, Mrs. J. F. Neill, Mrs. Florence Selby.

Mrs. Henry Nichols will entertain at a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Miller on September 25. She has invited her friends to her home on Mountain avenue, Piedmont.

GATES BILL AND PUBLIC UTILITIES

Marguerite Ogden Outlines the Provisions of Measure Before Oakland Center.

The Gates bill, as it applies to the bay municipal traction district, was the subject of discussion this afternoon before the legislative committee of the Oakland Center of the California Civic League, when Miss Marguerite Ogden, daughter of Superior Judge Frank B. Ogden, and herself an attorney, outlined the provisions of the law and took up the street car problem as applied to it.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Sept. 20.—Judge J. W. Jones in circuit court yesterday afternoon sentenced Mrs. Mae Evans to twenty-five years imprisonment in the state penitentiary for the killing here on May 26 of Dr. E. L. SPORTLETS

In spite of Willie Ritchie's promise to fight everybody in the lightweight division, he is likely to forget himself some day and get into the ring with somebody.

When it comes time for him to sign up with Packer all he'll demand is 125 ringside, 100 per cent of the gate receipts, and the entire proceeds of the sale of hot dogs.

There's nothing quite as disturbing as a number who tells the truth but such pugilists are about as plentiful as tennis champions east of California.

Gilbert H. Schirmer, guard on the Yale football eleven of '10, '11 and '12, will coach the line of Northwestern University's football team this season.

With the close of the season comes the usual rumors of a change in the presidency of the National League.

GINGERLESS HOGAN HAS OLD PUNCH, BUT HE'S TOO HEAVY

Tom Nickola the Sensation at Four-round Show; Logan Leaves for Canada.

Francisco last night are divided in their opinions as to whether "One Round" Hogan "came back" in his four-round bout with Tommy McFarland.

Tommy and Jack boxed four rounds to a draw. Hogan had a shade the better of the milling, but his rough tactics probably influenced Referee Frank Schuler to slip McFarland out of the fight.

NIKOLA THE SENSATION. Tom Nikola, the local middleweight, provided the sensation of the evening when he stopped Grover Brinkley in the second round.

LOGAN OFF FOR CANADA. Frank Logan apparently does not want any more of Otto Berg's game, as he is preparing to leave for Winnipeg, Canada.

Frankie Burns and Young Abe Attell plan to leave for Vancouver, B. C., the latter part of next week.

Matchmaker Tommy Simpson of the West Oakland club is figuring on putting on Otto Round Hogan and Jack Azevedo on October 30.

Carl Morris, the blundering heavy from Oklahoma, knocked out Al Reich in the second round of a scheduled ten-round match in New York last night.

Smith and Tram Langford will meet after all in New York, the Attorney General having decided that mixed boxing cannot be legally prevented on racial grounds.
